

'Global warming is man-made phenomenon'

Union Minister Dr Jitendra Singh addressing seminar on Climate Change in New Delhi on Wednesday.

New Delhi, Aug 6: Union Minister of State (Independent Charge) for Science & Technology and Earth Sciences, MoS in Prime Minister's Office (PMO), Personnel, Public Grievances and Pensions, Space & Atomic Energy, Dr Jitendra Singh, said Wednesday that global warming and climate change are man-made phenomena and therefore the remedy also lies to a large extent on greater public awareness.

Speaking at the release of IPCC (Inter Government Panel on Climate Change) Report here, he said, stabilization of population on the planet is another urgent need if we wish to save the Earth's Eco-system.

Dr Jitendra Singh observed that the Department of Earth Sciences headed by him had, in the last eight weeks, not only made accurate monsoon related climate forecasts but had also helped avoid major natural calamity by accurately forecasting inclement weather enroute Kedarnath Yatra during third week of July. This has proved India's scientific capability in climate forecast as also in other scientific fields in general as being world class and comparable with any other developed country of the world, he added.

Referring to his priority to encourage young scientists, Dr Jitendra Singh said that one of the major decisions taken by him after taking over the Department was to avoid such foreign visits by the Minister where he was not personally required for scientific or research deliberations.

Citing major achievements in the field of Science & Technology in the last two months, Dr Jitendra Singh referred to the launch of commercial satellite from PSLV C23 on 30th June and said soon this will be followed by space voyage to Mars. In addition, he said the Department is working seriously on the project for creating a SAARC satellite as announced by Prime Minister Narendra Modi at Sriharikota.

Enumerating other major challenges in the years to come, Dr Jitendra Singh said ocean warming will be a dominating factor for increase in energy in the climate stored system. In this context, he referred to launch of first ever indigenously built Research Ship Vessel from Goa recently.

Sam Bickersteth, R.K. Pachauri, Rana Kapoor and Dipankar Sanyal among others also spoke on the occasion.

Senior NC leader hits out at Omar

'He brought party near disaster'

ALTAF BABA

Baramulla, Aug 6: Senior National Conference leader and former MP Ghulam Nabi Shaheen on Wednesday accused party president and Chief Minister Omar Abdullah, of what he said "spoiling NC and bringing it to near disaster."

"It is high time when someone from the Sheikh family like Khalida Shah who has seen the ups and downs of the party should come forward and lead the party. Only she has the guts to lead the party in the right direction at this juncture," said Shaheen while addressing party workers in Pattan.

"Omar Abdullah has failed on every front and the glaring example of that is the outcome of the recently held Parliament elections in the state. Even party stalwart Farooq Abdullah lost the election which reflects how party is losing its sheen among the masses," he said.

"NC under Omar Abdullah is like a sinking ship.

The party needs immediate change of guard. The reins of the party are now in the hands of those elements who are not even remotely connected with the policies of Sheikh Muhammad Abdullah," Shaheen said.

Elaborating, he said Omar Abdullah has "sidelined those party veterans who had long association with the party founder Sheikh Muhammad Abdullah."

Shaheen said due to the wrong policies, he is leaving the party and in this regard a formal announcement would be made in coming days.

"It is not only me who is leaving the party; there are senior NC workers in hundreds who are waiting in the queue. They too are disgruntled by the present wave of anarchy that has engulfed the party of Sheikh Muhammad Abdullah. The father son duo is undermining all ethos and is not willing to learn from the blunders they have committed."

From YRF to IRF, Murcyleen strives for women's dignity

Srinagar, Aug 6: Murcyleen Peerzada, a girl hailing from North Kashmir's Sopore area feels enlightened within as she quit her job of assistant director at Yash Raj Films (YRF) and dedicated her life to Islam, saying her priority would be to aware Kashmiri women about true Islamic values.

Mursaleen, who has worked as an assistant director in Salman Khan starrer 'Ek Tha Tiger' said she has dedicated her life for dawah and her priority from now on will be to introduce Kashmir's present generation girls to the true values of Islam and make them aware that it is the only religion that provides honor and dignity to the women folk.

Mursaleen is concerned about the growing trends of westernization among women in Kashmir and terms it 'ironic' that with jeans and T-shirts; hijab is being used to cover the head. "The immortality in Kashmir is growing and the Islamic concepts and values are being undermined.

The basic reason for the Fitna is the emergence of western style in Muslim women," said Murcyleen who at present is pursuing her masters in Islamic studies from correspondence in Saudi Arabia.

She was born and brought up in Mumbai- the city of dreams. After completing her graduation, she asked her father to permit her for joining the bollywood. "I was a complete westernized girl adopting the very style and the way of living. My father was a close friend of late Yash Chopra. He introduced me to him and I started working at Yash Raj Films as the assistant director. My first project was Salman Khan starrer Ek Tha Tiger. Everyone had to admit my skills in the film making. Later on during the making of Jab Tak Hae Jaan, Yash Chopra passed away. That was the real shock for me as he was like my grandfather."

Mursaleen said that she was offered work in YRF under Maneesh Sharma. "They crew tested me for film. I was asked to face the cameras but something somewhere in me rebuked my conscience. I stood in front of the lights like a dead one sans any expressions and understood that the city is hell bent upon exposing women at the worst. I left for my home and did nothing for a long. Later I got a book written by Dr Zakir Naik. The script changed me within. I told my father that I am joining IRF. I met wife of Dr Naik (Farhat Aapa). I joined the school and for six months, my dress and my life-style didn't change but later I started covering myself with Hijab. Life changed and I can now say with certainty that the galmorous life of films is no way a right choice for a women. Only Islam can give women regard, respect and status."

When asked how much better the Islamic way of life is than that of the bollywood-considered by many as life of dreams, she said, 'one thousand times. Islam is the best way of living; nothing would be its substitute.' KNS
